Introduction

Who I am:

Composite design Engineer at Dallara
Design engineer for Haas F1 team

Performed job:

I am in charge design engineer for Haas formula 1 team, in particular I was involved in projects like cooling system , rad ducts, engine snorkel and other components linked to engine and bodywork. I designed some cooling system mechanism for oil, air and water in carbon fiber and windform.

I did the tooling design of the previous component to detail drawings (software Catia V5).
I'm capable to work on myself, I like to understand problems and find solutions sharing the information with the team and reach goals together paying attention to the details and working under pressure.
